KEY HIGHLIGHTS

Dear Policyholders,

The PSX continued with its bearish trend and remained range bound during the month. In Feb'25 the benchmark KSE-100 closed at 113,252 points, shedding 1,004 points marking a 0.9% M/M decline. The reasons for this muted performance and overall decline include: 1) The current account turned red for the first time in 4 months, recording a deficit of USD 420Mn. 2) MSCI quarterly review also turned out to be a non-event, with minor adjustment in Pakistan's weight. 3) FBR continued to fall behind its target, with the shortfall swelling to PKR 604Bn in 8MFY25, and 4) Political uncertainty on the global front leading to volatility in international oil prices.

On the economic front, oil prices saw a downward revision, with petrol prices decreasing by PKR 1.50/liter to PKR 255.63/liter while HSD prices decreased by PKR 9.31/liter to PKR 258.64/liter. - CPI inflation in Jan'24 stood at 2.41% Y/Y, compared to 4.06% a month earlier.

- As of 31st Dec 2024, Brent closed at USD 77.31/bbl, while coal at USD 99.95/mt.

The LSMI output for Dec'24 decreased by 3.73% Y/Y whereas in 6MFY25, LSMI has shown a negative growth of 1.87% Y/Y. CAPITAL MARKETS UPDATE

EQUITY MARKET

KSE-100 ONE YEAR PERFORMANCE

In Jan'25, the KSE-100 index turned bearish, closing at 114,256, marking a slight decline of 0.8% (-871 points). Trading activity was low as the average volumes fell 46% M/M to 679 million shares and average traded value decreasing 38% M/M to PKR 33.2bn. The drop in performance was due to: 1) Global uncertainty caused by Donald Trump's tariff on key trading partners, potentially sparking a trade war, 2) Concerns about the upcoming IMF review amid the huge revenue shortfall and the lack of progress on other performance benchmarks, 3) The contraction of large-scale manufacturing despite massive rate cuts in the last seven months and, 4) Inconclusive talks between the Government and PTI which further aggravated the situation.

STRATEGY & OUTLOOK

EQUITY MARKET:

We expect the equity market to continue its upward momentum, albeit with volatility, driven by growing investor confidence. This positive sentiment is reinforced by Pakistan's participation in the 37-month Extended Fund Facility and a notable decline in CPI readings, paving the way for further policy rate cuts. However, market performance remains susceptible to changes in government policies, economic indicators, global developments, and rising political tensions.

Key triggers which can have an impact on benchmark include:

- Successful completion of the first IMF EFF review, expected in Q1 2025.
- Further monetary easing, supported by a softer inflation outlook.
- Political stability, ensuring the continuation of economic consolidation.
- Revenue-enhancing and expenditure-control measures, crucial for economic stability and fiscal health.
- Anticipated P/E rerating and increased liquidity in equities.

We remain committed to actively monitoring the equity market and capitalizing on emerging opportunities to maximize returns for our policyholders.

DEBT MARKET:

In the backdrop of receding inflationary pressure, the Monetary Policy Committee has reduced the policy rate this month by 100 bps: from 13% to 12%. The inflation for the month of Jan '25 dropped to 2.4%. CPI shows an increase of 0.2% MoM, primarily driven by the increase in housing and energy index.

Real interest rates remain deep in the positive territory, trending just under 10%. Inflation is anticipated to remain subdued until the second half of 2025, after which it is expected to reaccelerate as the base effect comes into play. On the external front, government moves through with the IMF program which remains essential to maintaining macroeconomic stability. Given the current favourable economic conditions and a positive outlook, we believe MPC will consider reducing policy rate by another 100 bps by March 2025.

Considering the existing macroeconomic conditions and projected interest rates, our portfolios are well calibrated in longer-tenor Treasury Bills, Floating rate bonds, and Fixed rate PIBs and we continue to remain vigilant about any developments that could affect our investment strategy.
